Jakarta, 14 September 2022 – One year from now, Jakarta, Indonesia will play host to two dedicated trade fairs for the foundry, casting and metallurgy sectors. This was announced today by joint organisers Messe Düsseldorf Asia and PT Pamerindo Indonesia (part of Informa Markets). It is the region’s largest international mining equipment, mineral recovery, mineral handling, and processing exhibition.

The official announcement took place during the opening of the 20th edition of Mining Indonesia which opens its show doors today. The partnership signals strong commitment for both organisers’ to work together and offer a value-add platform and mutually enriching and beneficial business experience for participating companies and those looking to expand their presence in the region. Messe Düsseldorf Asia and PT Pamerindo Indonesia (part of Informa Markets) already have a strong foothold in Indonesia and the Southeast Asian region; organising trade fairs across various manufacturing and high-value sectors.

Mr Gernot Ringling, Managing Director, Messe Düsseldorf Asia says: “The launch of the GIFA and METEC series of trade fairs in Southeast Asia, starting with Bangkok, Thailand, next month followed by Indonesia next year, come at a time of optimism and improved demand from steel using sectors particularly as the region focuses on infrastructure investment, resumption of construction activities, and an overall reassessment of manufacturing and sourcing capabilities. This strategic business partnership with PT Pamerindo Indonesia could not have come at a better time and brings together deep skills in trade fair management and strong understanding of local and international market demands in the area of metal, steel, and foundry technology.”

Mr Ben Wong, Country General Manager, PT Pamerindo Indonesia comments: “Together working as a team, this collaboration will allow us to drive more business impact for our exhibitors and visitors, and offer the best path for success for our clients looking to do business in Indonesia and for local companies – the ideal launch pad to network with global players.”

GIFA and METEC Indonesia will feature a comprehensive showcase of machinery and equipment, products and solutions; from casting machines to processing equipment and new technology for user industries across various vertical markets – from automotive, building and construction, energy and gas, to users from metal and steel plants.
